DETAILED ACTION

1. Applicant's election without traverse of Group I in the reply filed on October 11, 2006 is acknowledged.

2. Claims 13-14 are withdrawn from further consideration pursuant to 37 CFR 1.142(b) as being drawn to a nonelected invention, there being no allowable generic or linking claim. Election was made without traverse in the reply filed on October 11, 2006.

3. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

4. Claim 11 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention. In claim 11, line 3 the phrase "any one of claims 3..." is deemed vague and indefinite, in that the phrase is non-grammatical, and it is unclear whether Applicant intended to only include claim 3 in the dependency. The scope of the claim is not clear.

5. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

6. Claims 1, and 3-12 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Japan No. 11-154325 in view of Benning et al. Japan('227) discloses a method of manufacturing a glass substrate for an information recording medium comprising substantially all of the subject matter set forth in Applicant's claims above. The polishing is performed in plural steps with separate coarse and fine polishing. Benning et al discloses a dressing operation performed on a dual-head lapping apparatus having urethane pads, utilizing plural diamond dressing elements held in planetary carriers. Benning et al teach the expediency of providing a dressing step prior to the rough polishing step to bring the polishing surfaces to a desired smoothness and planarity. To perform the method in Japan('325) with an initial dressing step for this reason would have been obvious in view of Benning et al. The performance of pad dressing in dependence upon a reduction in polishing rate performance below 80% would have been an obvious matter of design choice to those of ordinary skill in the art. Likewise, the grit size of the dresser, dressing load, and dressing time are considered obvious matters of design choice readily determined by those of ordinary skill for a particular application.

7. Claims 2, and 15-20 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

8. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. Kimura et al is cited to show a dressing tool shape having plural dressing elements spaced circumferentially on the working surface.
